Makan Ku is a brand from PT. Halalan Thayyiban Indonesia that provides numerous Indonesian cuisines in the forms of ready to eat and ready to cook meals.

Makan Ku Ready Meal products are produced through a retort production process, which aims to sterilize the food with high level of temperature and pressure.

The goal of the sterilization process is to eliminate pathogen bacteria and spoilage microbes in order to generate a sterile product that has a long shelf life and create possibilities to store the product in room-temperature storage.

We use the best raw materials in our product that contains organic rice, Omega-3 based eggs and high quality proteins that are preserved without any added preservatives. Therefore, this product is suitable for any kind of circumstances.
